

THINK CHAMBERLAIN HARD BARGAIN.

RT. HON. JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN.

He Makes a Profound Impression on All Classes in South Africa.

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—An official, who has arrived from South Africa says it is hardly possible to appreciate here how profound an impression Mr. Chamberlain has made on all classes and races, says a London dispatch to the Tribune.

PASSENGERS POISONED ON HIGH SEAS.

Six Succumb to Gases Emanating From the Cargo and Vessel is Now in Quarantine.

NEW YORK, March 10.—The Anchor liner Karamanka, from Marseilles, Palermo, and Naples, was delayed at Quarantine today, because a number of the crew and passengers died under peculiar circumstances on the voyage. Six died in all, two of the crew and four passengers in the steerage. All were taken with the same symptoms, cramps, nausea and collapse. It is thought they were poisoned by some noxious gases emanating from the cargo.

EXPLOSION FOLLOWS A WRECK.

Horrible Disaster on Erie Railroad Results in the Loss of Between Eighteen and Twenty Lives.

OLEAN, N. Y., March 10.—From eighteen to twenty lives were lost and fully twice that number were burned or bruised by an explosion of oil late last night, following a wreck on the Erie Railroad, north of this city. Owing to the fact that some of the bodies were incinerated or blown into the creek by the explosion, the exact number of dead will probably not be known for several days. The number of injured is uncertain, as many of them were able to reach their homes. The known casualties are:

The Dead: NORMAN BROWN. JOHN TOBIN. JOHN McMAHON. JOHN McMAHON, all four are boys about 17 years of age and lived in Olean.

M. DRISCOLL, North Olean. ALBERT SWIFT, Olean. JOHN McMAHON, Olean. HARRY GODDER, Boardmanville. RICHARD CONNELL, North Olean. Six unidentified bodies at Woods undertaking rooms.

Boy, blown into creek and drowned; body not recovered. Two or more unknown persons, bodies incinerated in burned wreckage. At the hospital one of the patients said a young boy was blown into the creek near him. He tried to save him, but was unable to do so.

The scenes following the explosion will never be forgotten by those who saw them. It was about 5 o'clock in the evening when the train was wrecked. An Erie freight, westbound, broke in two on the hill, two miles north of the city. At first the forward part of the train, released of all the weight behind, sprang forward with increased speed. Brakes were applied and the first part was brought almost to a standstill at the bridge across Olean creek.

The rear cars, gathering momentum as they came down the hill, crashed into the front cars. Most of the cars were tank cars filled with refined oil or gasoline. They weighed thousands of tons, and the impact was terrific. One of the tank cars caught fire soon after the collision. The exact cause of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have started from a spark struck from the grinding pieces of iron in the wreck. In a few minutes another car of gasoline caught fire and burst into flames with a terrific report. Emissions of fire and flames of several hundred feet. The flames shot high in the air. In this early accident, so far as can be learned, no one was injured. Hundreds of people from the surrounding country gathered to watch the brilliant flames.

For two hours the people stood massed together and as the heat became less intense, the crowd began to edge a little closer to the wreckage until about 11 o'clock some young boys approached and within a few hundred feet of it. Suddenly there was a terrific explosion.

A number of others in the same room, feeling ill, ran on deck and soon recovered. The compartment was then stripped, disinfected and closed. February 27th a passenger was sent to the hospital suffering from stomach trouble and on March 1st, two other passengers were stricken suddenly and died within a few hours. The next day, March 2nd, the passenger in the hospital died and another passenger was found dead in his bunk. All the dead passengers had occupied adjoining bunks in No. 1 steerage. They were buried at sea.

said the men were poisoned. Two days after sailing from Naples a sailor who slept in the room where the others were taken ill, was found in a stupor. On being restored, he said he had suffered from the same symptoms.

FLOODS SWEEP OVER VAST ACRES.

Storms and Rising Rivers Cause Havoc in Many Eastern and Northern Cities and Towns.

OMAHA, Neb., March 10.—Flood reports are coming in today from a number of towns along the Elkhorn, Platte and Loup rivers. The most serious situation is at Columbus and Fremont. At the latter place the water late last night covered the lower part of the town. Inglewood, in the southern limits, was under water by midnight and many people had retired ignorant of the danger, and were awakened by the water rushing into their homes.

The water is stationary today and it is believed that the high point has been reached. The towns of Stanton, Schuyler, Central City and St. Paul are still in the center of the flooded districts. All trains from the west were late into Omaha today.

GRAND RIVER IS STILL RISING. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 10.—The Grand river is still rising at this point. It is flooding the boiler rooms of river bank factories and forcing the plants to shut down. A number of residences on the west are isolated and boats are running now where the streets were passable yesterday morning. The highest water mark has been reached, but may soon if the ice gorge at Jona breaks or if a threatened rain proves heavy. Reports from Jona say the water has risen six inches since last night and is still rising.

LOWLANDS OF KENTUCKY FLOODED FOR MANY MILES. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 10.—A heavy ten-hour rain, over a radius of fifty miles, with its center at Louisville, will, according to the local weather bureau officials, cause a rise in the river tomorrow two feet above the danger line. The lowlands in Indiana and Kentucky are flooded for miles.

TRAIN RUNS INTO MISSOURI LANDSLIDE. SEDALIA, Mo., March 10.—Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 8, the fast mail, which left here at midnight for St. Louis, ran into a landslide near Gardsville and the engine was buried in the mud. The cars remained on the track

Great masses of flames shot into the air and literally rolled down the banked sides of the track into the gully where the spectators were standing. Men and boys fell before the wave of white light to rise no more. Hugo pieces of iron were hurled through the air moving down the human beings by the score. Some managed to scramble to their feet and get away, but others lay still in death. The scene of agony and horror at that moment was beyond description. A veritable rain of fire came down upon the crowd. Men and boys with their clothing a mass of flames, ran shrieking down the track, some of them falling to the ground unconscious, while others groveled in the ditch or jumped into the creek in an endeavor to put out the fire that was consuming them. Many of those overwhelmed by the flames, dropped where they stood and never again moved.

As soon as the telephone could be reached, all the doctors in the city were summoned and the ambulances were called out. Express wagons and other vehicles were pressed into service. In the meantime, those in the vicinity of the wreck who escaped injury, made valiant efforts to rescue the wounded who were still lying within reach of the flames. Boys were burned to death before their father's eyes, while a latter stood helpless to save them. Men so badly injured by the flying iron, that they could not move, lay in the gully with flames rolling down upon them until they perished.

Nothing could be done to check the flames which began to die out about midnight. A short distance west of the iron bridge, a line was established beyond which no one was permitted to pass, as one of the burning cars was thought to be in danger of exploding.

It was about 1 o'clock when Deputy Sheriff Ousterhout called for volunteers to rescue the dead and injured. Three times as many as called for stepped forward and the gruesome work was begun. In a short time after the bodies had been recovered and laid aside the track. Some of them were so badly burned and distorted as to be scarcely recognizable. Several bodies were found in the ditch. The body of one boy was seen too close to the flames to be approached and in a short time it was buried in ashes. It is believed others were also incinerated. When the last body had been rescued, the stretcher-bearers formed a procession and started down the track toward the ambulances and carriages. The crowd fell back and opened a passage way for them.

The only sound that broke the stillness while the procession filed past, was an occasional sob or a shuddering "Oh!" the remains of the bodies arrived in the city about 3 o'clock and were taken to undertaking establishments to be prepared for burial.

A canvass of the city and adjoining villages will be taken to ascertain the names of the missing. It will be impossible to identify some of the dead, and it is likely they will all be buried together.

and Engineer Pace, whose arm was hurt, was the only person injured. GALE PREVAILS AT PORTLAND, ORE. PORTLAND, Ore., March 10.—A gale, the estimated velocity of which was forty miles an hour prevailed in this vicinity early this morning. Several light frame houses under construction were blown down and a number of chimneys toppled over. The damage is not heavy.

COLUMBIA RIVER SWEPT BY A GALE. ASTORIA, Ore., March 10.—Between midnight and daylight this morning a terrific gale was blowing at the mouth of the Columbia river. The estimated velocity being eighty miles an hour. No serious damage to shipping has yet been reported.

MAY BE MURDER CASE.

Sunol Farmer Found With a Broken Neck.

Both strange and mysterious are the circumstances surrounding the death of J. Schroeder, a farmer, almost 70 years of age, whose dead body was found this morning lying by the road-side a short distance east of Sunol, Alameda county. A little farther on was found the farmer's team with which he had left Pleasanton about dusk last night. The horses had wandered but a little way from the dead body of their master and were patiently standing in the road when found.

Although the body of farmer Schroeder has not been examined by a physician, there is every indication that death was caused by the neck being broken. How the tragic death occurred will have to be determined by a coroner's investigation.

The deceased owned a small farm in Vallecitos Valley. Yesterday morning he drove to Pleasanton to purchase some provisions. He spent the day about town and then about dusk mounted his wagon and started for his home. That was the last seen of him alive.

What or who intervened between the deceased and his destination and caused his death is for the authorities to ascertain. Some say that murder might have been done, for during the day farmer Schroeder exhibited considerable gold while doing his purchasing; others say that he left for home while under the influence of liquor and fell from his seat on the wagon, while another theory is that his team became fractious and threw him from his position to the ground. But to dispute the latter theory is the fact that the team was found but a short distance from the dead body.

The remains have been removed to the branch morgue at Pleasanton and an autopsy and inquest will be held at that place Wednesday.

FLORA EBERLING WAS POISONED.

FLORA EBERLING, Who Died Under Peculiar Circumstances.

Oil Found in Stomach Proves a Deadly Drug.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 10.—Dr. J. L. Morgan, the city chemist, reported to Coroner Leland this morning that he had succeeded in separating from the contents of the stomach of Miss Flora Eberling a volatile oil which had the essential and characteristic pharmaceutical element of either pennyroyal or tansy. The oil was present in sufficient quantities to cause death. Dr. Morgan was certain, beyond all peradventure of doubt, that one of these two compounds was responsible for the tragic termination of the young woman's life.

RELIANCE CLUB PLANS AN ENTERTAINMENT.

Only Club Members Will Be Admitted—Britt Loses to O'Keefe—Terry M'Govern at Work—Sports.

The Reliance Athletic Club is preparing to give a combined smoker and athletic entertainment on March 19th, to which none but members of the club are to be admitted. The committee having the affair in hand promise one of the best entertainments given the members in many months. In addition to the musical program, which will include some excellent numbers, there will be several athletic contests for club trophies. The Reliance Club orchestra will be in attendance to enliven the occasion with its choicest selections.

BRITT LOSES FIGHT ON FOUL.

APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN ROBBED IN CONTEST WITH O'KEEFE AT PORTLAND.

Jimmy Britt of San Francisco whipped Jack O'Keefe at Portland last night, but lost the victory through a decision of Referee Jack Grant, who gave the fight to the Chicagoan on an unintentional foul in the sixth round. The contest had a very ugly ending, and there are many stories about it. A brother of the referee conducts a poolroom and Jack O'Keefe, who gave a questionable decision in the preliminary fight, is his business partner. Another incident is that telegrams were sent to Seattle and Tacoma offering unlimited coin on Britt at two to one, and it is said that a great deal of O'Keefe money suddenly made its appearance in those towns.

Pete Grant, brother of the referee, expresses regret that the fight ended in the way it did and declares that while a foul was committed and his brother gave a correct and honest judgment, that Britt struck low unintentionally.

"It seems to me," Pete Grant says, "that O'Keefe was going. Britt had him floored, no one can deny that, but in the mix-up in the middle of the sixth round Britt sent in some wicked lefts, and O'Keefe, just as Britt drove in, seemed to raise off his feet and the blow landed in the Chicago boy's groin."

It was agreed by the principals and their managers that in case a foul was claimed before a decision should be rendered a physician should be called in and judgment reserved until his opinion was rendered. Referee Grant did not live up to the agreement. In Britt's dressing room after the fight, Willie Britt accused Grant of ignoring the agreement. "You know, Grant," Britt said, "that it was agreed to call in a physician if a foul was claimed by either side, and that the decision was to be withheld until the doctor could make an examination. You did not keep that agreement."

"I understood the agreement," Grant replied, "that I was to call in a physician if I was not sure in my own judgment that a foul had been committed as claimed."

Later on, talking to newspaper reporters, Grant said:

"I have only time to say there was something said about calling in a physician in case of a foul, but I replied that I was pretty keen-eyed and that if I should fail to recognize the nature of the blow I would call in a physician. It was a plain out-and-out foul, and that is all I have to say."

Later on, Referee Grant made a more detailed statement, which brought a new development. He said that the foul blow landed in O'Keefe's right groin. O'Keefe was examined by two going Cobett Terry will vary his work and do more inside gymnasium exercise. He will don his gloves quite often and will take on some of the local featherweights.

Both Terry and his trainers are confident that the champion will be able to get down to weight and Terry says he could take off flesh without going into training at all.

M'GOVERN AT WORK IN ALAMEDA.

FEATHER-WEIGHT SAYS THAT HE WILL HAVE NO TROUBLE IN MAKING WEIGHT.

Terry McGovern and his retinue of trainers are hard at work in Alameda. They are delighted with Croll's Gardens as a training ranch and Terry is satisfied that he will get into the best condition there.

For a while McGovern will do only outdoor work, taking long walks over the Alameda roads and doing stunts on the sandy shore back of his quarters.

Charlie Mayhew and Eddie Cain will assist Terry in his work. When within about ten days of the contest with Young Cobett Terry will vary his work and do more inside gymnasium exercise. He will don his gloves quite often and will take on some of the local featherweights.

Both Terry and his trainers are confident that the champion will be able to get down to weight and Terry says he could take off flesh without going into training at all.

Adam was naming the animals. The pterodactyl slipped into the line and came forward again.

"Here!" exclaimed Adam: "didn't I name you once?"

"Yes, sir," answered the pterodactyl. "I merely wished to ask you how to pronounce my name."

"Go look in the dictionary," replied Adam. "I'm busy enough telling the Smiths, Smiths and Smythes how to spell their names without being bothered by you."

Wm. Lammie

Wine of Cardui strikes at the very seat of female weakness by regulating successful prescription that has stood the test for three-quarters of a century. Women have secured health by its use. Wine of Cardui is offered to the million as leaving their life forces drained away by the scourge of female weakness. It eradicates this rendering them vigorous and healthy. The demands of the moderns seem out of every twenty women who have used Wine of Cardui endorse it in letter and the thousands of other letters which come to us unsolicited are the result of this great health-giving remedy. Mrs. Van Auker heartily endorses Wine of Cardui which helped her. Because it cured her headaches and pains. Because it stopped her life away from her. Because it made her a healthy woman. Why not give Wine of Cardui a sample trial. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

BEAL BRUISED BY WIFE'S RELATIVES. Edward Beal, whose alleged kindness to sixteen-year-old Ida Brown got him into all sorts of trouble, has recently received another bruising at the hands of his wife's relatives. He affirms that he received a card from Mrs. Beal's attorney in the divorce proceedings, which she has instituted, saying that he might call to see his child on any evening that suited him. He called Saturday night, he says, at 19 Boardman place, and Mrs. Beal's brother-in-law, Charles Hardes, beat him and kicked him off the premises. Beal says he will have his assailant arrested.

A GREAT DISCOVERY

In Electro-Chemical Science.

ELECTRO-MAGNETINE, a recent discovery of Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is an Electro-Magnetized and Ammonio-Camphorated Cream Liniment.

POSSESSION OF MARVELOUS PROPERTIES.

ELECTRO-MAGNETINE is believed to be the only preparation yet devised for curative purposes combined with such peculiar properties that when applied to any part of the human body, accompanied with brisk rubbing with the nated hands, it causes an active and energetic electro-magnetic action to be set up in the parts to which it is applied.

The wonderful potency of this peculiar form of electro-magnetic force, individual, or animal, magnetism, or whatever it may properly be termed, in curing certain forms of human maladies has been demonstrated beyond the possibility of doubt.

Whether ELECTRO-MAGNETINE is actually charged with electro-magnetic properties infused into it in the process of manufacture, or whether it serves merely as a medium through which electro-magnetic forces are developed by active rubbing and which are then transmitted or applied to the parts operated upon, we are not yet quite prepared to say, but of one thing we are certain. That the combined use of ELECTRO-MAGNETINE with active rubbing is much more efficient in a curative way than either of these agencies employed separately.

The free application of the ELECTRO-MAGNETINE to Swollen Joints, accompanied with vigorous rubbing with the bare hands, sets up in the affected parts such an active electro-magnetic action as to greatly promote the circulation of the blood through the swollen parts and thereby hasten absorption and consequent reduction of swelling, stiffness, soreness and pain.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the importance of thorough and vigorous rubbing of the affected parts after a free application of ELECTRO-MAGNETINE. In fact, rubbing kept up until the face is flushed and the body is heated, is the key to success.

Look due to the application of the Cream Liniment. In all Chronic, or long standing, Swollen, or Enlarged Joints, the thorough course of treatment above directed should be applied two or three times a day.

WEAK BACKS MADE STRONG.

By a somewhat protracted use of ELECTRO-MAGNETINE, accompanied with thorough rubbing, or massage, weak backs are made strong. Sore Muscles and Lame Backs, whether arising from strains, over-exertion or Rheumatic Conditions of the system, are relieved, as if by magic, by the thorough application of this remedy. Football and base ball players are amongst those loudest in their praises of it as giving prompt relief from muscle pains, Lameness and Soreness caused by over-exertion and strains.

Especially has ELECTRO-MAGNETINE proven its power to cure Obsolete Cases of Swollen or Enlarged and Stiffened Joints, whether arising from Rheumatic, Gouty or other conditions of the system, which cause inflammation, effusion and consequent enlargement of the joints.

IN ALL CHRONIC OR LINGERING AFFECTIONS.

For the cure of which ELECTRO-MAGNETINE is recommended, it should be thoroughly applied two or three times daily, as above directed—not omitting thorough rubbing with the bare hands.

OWNERS OF LIVE STOCK

Should know that ELECTRO-MAGNETINE is quite as effective, in a curative way, when applied to horses and cattle suffering from Sprains, Bruises, Lameness, Swollen or Stiffened Joints and kindred affections, as when applied to human flesh. Sold by druggists and dealers in medicines, throughout the United States and Canada, at 50 cents, or sent post-paid by the manufacturer on receipt of this price in post-age stamps or postal order.

"NO TRESPASS" SIGN.

The famous poet of the West, Joaquin Miller, has been obliged at last to warn the public again of trespassing on his private grounds, at Fruita, Colo. But even while obliged to protest against the liberties taken, the gentle-mannered old man makes his warning with characteristic good humor and originality. The sign reads as follows:

"Please, please, no trespassing. Nothing to see up here except down yonder."

Said the Persian poet: "We will not trespass upon the pretty carpet of nature today, but leave the ferns and flowers and all things clean and pretty to adorn the path of the prince who comes tomorrow."

"JOAQUIN MILLER."

VALUABLE QUARTZ LEDGE UNEARTHED.

It is rumored that a large ledge of paying gold quartz has been discovered on the high bluff, near the Santa Fe mole, at Point Richmond. A gang of men under Foreman T. I. Stanton, who were occupied in blasting off the top of the bluff yesterday, made the find.

Several miners in the party made pan tests of the quartz, which ran about 10 cents to the pan, and it is said to be free milling. Several samples of the rock have been sent to assayers for their estimate. The ledge is on the property of the Santa Fe Company.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP OAKLAND WITH A MAGNIFICENT VICTORY AT THE POLLS.

Warren Olney Wins Race for Mayor With Votes to Spare.

His Majority is 1421 and All the Other Candidates on Republican Ticket Run Well—M'Elroy Wins the Three Cornered Race for City Attorney.

Yesterday the largest vote ever cast at a municipal election in Oakland was polled. At the same time the election was notable for its quietness and good order. Fully half of the vote was polled by before 10 o'clock.

The great body of the San Francisco commuters voted before starting for the ferry, which, of course, made the early vote very heavy. As a rule they went to the polls, voted and got away as quickly as possible. There was little arguing or buttonholing in the vicinity of the polling booths, the vast majority of citizens manifesting very plainly by their manner that they had decided what they were going to do and were averse to entering upon any street discussion regarding intentions.

The count, like the balloting, proceeded with great expedition. It was noted that the lesson taught by the last general election had been heeded, for the ballot markings showed that the voters had stamped their ballots with care. Only a few ballots were thrown out for irregularity. Those invalidated were cast mainly by Union Labor voters, their ticket having a "no nomination" blank space. The highest number thrown out in any one precinct, so far as heard from, was eight. Probably less than 200 were thrown out in the whole city for irregularity.

There were workers with badges around every polling booth, but they did little more than stand up and down and look on, for this election was one in which the worker was at a discount. The only work of consequence that was really done was in getting out the vote, and very little urging was required to do that. Members of the Municipal League made a special effort in behalf of Evans for Councilman-at-Large, selecting Altken as the man on the Republican ticket to be scratched. So energetic was the canvass against him that some of Altken's friends were rather dubious about the result (ill the count showed that their man had won).

There was also some active work in the City Attorney and City Treasurer fights. Espey cut into Johnson heavily and gave the election to McElroy by a stiff plurality. Espey got more votes than was generally expected, and McElroy developed great individual strength. Although Johnson cut into the Union Labor vote of the First Ward considerably, McElroy countered by still greater gains in the Republican strongholds. Murray Laidlaw also put up a better fight for City Treasurer than was looked for, and Fekon Taylor's majority is about half Olney's in consequence.

The entire Republican ticket with the exception of Johnson for City Attorney was elected. Breed gets the largest majority of any man on the ticket. Turner is a good second. Both had weak men to run against, and their opponents had only the straight Union Labor nomination, whereas Breed and Turner were on the Municipal League tickets as well as the regular Republican.

But Warren Olney's majority is as large as any one could reasonably expect. It is larger than many veteran politicians thought he would receive. It reaches the commanding figure of 1,421. The precinct returns show that Olney received a larger percentage of the Union Labor vote than was thought possible, and the vote cast for Gilpin was insignificant.

Cuvellier led the poll for Councilman-at-Large, as he did two years ago. Dornin came next, and Howard made a good third.

Two years ago Johnson beat Dow by 1,165 votes. Yesterday McElroy beat Johnson by 1,163, a difference of only two.

The deep interest that was taken in the result was shown by the large crowd that assembled early in the evening to watch the bulletins in front of THE TRIBUNE office. The gathering was large before the count fairly started, and continued to augment till after 9 o'clock. A remarkably quiet crowd it was, too, undemonstrative but evidently satisfied.
